

Newsletter / Engelberg, December 2011

We look back at two months of renovation last spring, followed by a busy summer with more than 2500 guests and a successful opening of our lounge and bar on the Swiss National Holiday, 1st August 2011.

We are back from two weeks of vacation and looking forward to the winter season with the first snow finally falling this week, what about you?

The installation of our outside sauna- and massage-cabins on the wellness terrace will be finished this December and as you can see bellow, many activities are going on this winter in Engelberg. From mid-December onwards, we will organize Sushi-nights on Thursday and Tapas-nights on Friday, in our lounge and bar from 16.00 to 20.00hours.

Take a look at our amateur video and get the feeling of the spirit of the cozy lodge:

DJ Bobo in Engelberg - Saturday, 10th to Sunday, 11th December 2011

The Swiss Singer DJ Bobo is organizing the first PSPS on the Titlis ski jumping hill. It is a parallel slalom where celebrities will race against each other. This project is supporting children of the WFP World Food Program. To celebrate the success of this event, a surely memorable party invites all guests to join in.

FIS Wordcup Saturday, 17th to Sunday, 18th December 2011

For the 40th year anniversary of the first ski jumper flying over the Titlis ski jumping hill, Engelberg is organizing The FIS World Cup Ski Jumping. It is the 31st time this international event takes place in Engelberg. Top athletes, like Simon Ammann are guaranteed to be joining in.

We look forward to welcoming the Italian Team and still have some available rooms.

Ladies week - Saturday, 14th to Saturday 21st January 2012

“Girls just wanna have fun” in Engelberg: Reserve four nights at The Angels Lodge and ladies get one free ski pass (value sFr. 200.00) for four days. We still have availability for you at the Lodge.

Children for free - Saturday, 7th to Saturday, 14th April 2012

Stay at The Angels Lodge with your family for the week and your children, up to 16 years, receive free ski or snowboard lessons for 5 days organized by the Swiss Ski School of Engelberg. The first 100 children to register can benefit from this great opportunity – “First come-first served”.

If the offers above did not convince you to visit us yet, maybe some free-riding on the famous “Laub” or a drink by the cozy fireplace is your cup of tea...

If this is not the case, we wish you a great winter with lots of snow.

The international Angels Lodge staff, Giverny, Swiss and French, Anika from Serbia, Patricia from Portugal, Karim from Egypt, Jelena from Croatia, Carole from Switzerland and Jean from Canada, look forward to helping you discover the outdoor of Engelberg and make sure your stay will be a special adventure with positive emotions.

See you soon.
